This book provides a demographic profile of the Syrian diaspora into Europe and identifies the issue of forced migration as a separate and increasingly salient topic within the more general field of migration research. It describes the progressive increase in numbers of Syrian refugees in different European countries during recent years and gives a demographic profile of the Syrian refugee population. The book also compares and synthesizes the demographic profiles presented to show how the population of Syrian refugees differs from country to country in terms of age structure, sex ratio, family status, educational attainment and other social and economic characteristics by providing a solid empirical portrait based on national and international statistics. This book will be a great resource to students, academics in migration and refugee studies as well as social scientists and policy makers in European countries.

This regularly updated compendium provides detailed statistical profiles of 25 major non-European markets.
